

U. S., Russia Agree to Atom Conference

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Russia were agreed today on starting preliminary atomic peace talks in Washington, but the important question of timing was still up in the air.

The Soviets announced the agreement last night in Moscow and the State Department quickly confirmed it.

Russia said its ambassador in Washington, Georgi M. Zarubin, would represent it at the talks to set a time place an subject matter for full scale negotiations. No date was mentioned.

The State Department, within an hour, announced Secretary Dulles would "proceed at an early date to have the procedural conversations." That was another good sign to the Soviets to get the talks going. Time is short for Dulles who is expected to leave two weeks from today for Berlin and the Foreign Ministers Conference there Jan. 25 among the United States, Russia, Britain and France.

Dulles has been pressing for early negotiations ever since President Eisenhower proposed, in his Dec. 8 address to the United Nations, that the world unite to strip the atom of its military casing and adapt it to the arts of peace.

Under the Eisenhower plan, atomic materials and know-how would be pooled for peaceful purposes by the United States, Russia and other nations with a contribution to make. An international agency under United Nations auspices, would control the pool. The hope is that such international effort might ultimately lead to control of atomic weapons also.

Dulles has said he planned to discuss the idea with Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov at the Berlin conference, originally proposed for Jan. 4. But when the meeting was postponed to Jan. 5, he instructed Charles E. Bohlen, U.S. Ambassador at Moscow, to take it up with Molotov.

Damage Heavy in Electrical Co. Fire Here

Fire which started in an upstairs storage room of Allen Electric Co. downtown Elm Street about 3:30 a. m. Thursday resulted in several thousands dollars in stock and building damage. There was no immediate estimate of the loss.

Officers Parsons and Compton saw smoke coming out of the building while patrolling and turned in the fire alarm.

Fire Chief Willis said the blaze started in the upstairs storage room in oily rags used in cleaning and repairing equipment. The heaviest and most damage was done to the building. Firemen were able to put the blaze out quickly, saving a major part of the store.

Ray Allen, owner and manager of the company was notified of the fire at the time and was notified of the loss this morning. The loss was at least partially covered by insurance.

Two Candidates File for Office

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Two candidates filed their corrupt practices pledges with Secretary of State C. G. Hall here yesterday to enter political races.

C. Van Hayes, a Benton attorney, filed for state senator from the 11th senatorial district, composed of Hot Spring, Garland, Saline and Clark Counties. He will run for position No. 1 previously held by former Sen. Ed Cash, Malvern, who resigned to enter the armed forces.

Prosecuting Attorney J. B. Reed Lonoke, filed for Circuit Judge in the 17th judicial district, a post now held by Judge W. J. Waggoner, who has not indicated if he will run for re-election.

The 17th circuit is composed of Arkansas, Monroe, Lonoke and Prairie counties.

McCarthy to Discuss Curb Movements

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) called a meeting of his Senate investigations subcommittee today and said moves to curb or surrender part of its Red-hunting powers "may be discussed."

He has described as "a lie" published reports that he has agreed, under urging from Eisenhower administration officials, to switch emphasis in his group's investigations from communism to other fields.

The main objective of today's closed door meeting, he said, is to act on his own requests for contempt of Congress citations against three balked witnesses in his recent investigations of alleged spying at Swift by New York writer, Albert Einstein, who he accused of cooperating with anti-subcommittee; and Abraham Unger, a New York City lawyer. McCarthy said Lamont refused to answer questions, and refused to file in justification the Constitution's guarantee against self-incrimination. He said Unger "conducted a filibuster."

But McCarthy added he was willing at today's meeting to "discuss anything the other senators have in mind," including a controversial proposal by Sen. Mundt (R-SD), that the Senate create a powerful new committee to carry the main load of investigating subversion and un-American activities.

Mundt is a member of McCarthy's subcommittee, which has been all-Republican since its three Democratic members resigned in a row with McCarthy last July. McCarthy told reporters he "would not favor" Mundt's proposal.

Mundt had said he thought Communist investigations were too big a job for a subcommittee to handle and that his plan would avoid duplication of effort.

1.8 Million Cotton Acres for State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas farmers will be permitted to plant 1,847,059 acres of cotton this year if Congress approves a national allotment agreed upon by the Senate Agriculture Committee.

The committee yesterday settled on a national acreage total of 21,373,374.

Without congressional action, the allotment would be 17,910,000 as set by Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

Cotton was produced on 2,070,000 acres in Arkansas last year, when there were no acreage controls.

hometown, u.s.a. — "what makes men hold on to their money makes men hold on to their money," demanded Trellis Mae Peeples, America's most average housewife.

Wilbur lowered his morning newspaper until their eyes met across the breakfast table.

"Dear," he said, "a wife's conversation is like a jigsaw puzzle. It takes a fellow some time to make any kind of pattern out of it. What are you trying to get at? I don't know any man who is holding on to his money."

"Well, Winthrop Rockefeller is. I read it in the newspaper before you got up."

"Is he? How does he do it?"

"By refusing to give it to Bobo."

"What's a Bobo?"

"Oh, don't act so dumb. Bobo is Winthrop's wife," said Trellis.

S. Koreans Drop Threat, Prisoner Rift Settled

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

SEOUL (AP) — American and South Korean leaders meeting separately today apparently settled — at least temporarily — a rift on the tense problem of disposing of prisoners of war.

South Korean Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai dropped his threat of violence to free more than 21,000 unrepatriated prisoners of war while "new Allied arrangements are tested."

Meanwhile, the Communists failed to answer a repatriation commission request for their views on what to do with the prisoners after Jan. 22 the date set by the armistice for freeing them as civilians.

The U. N. replied earlier that they should be released according to truce terms. There was no indication that the Communists would change their all-out opposition to the release before a Korean political conference meets.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, 8th Army commander, flew to Tokyo for conferences with Gen. John E. Hull, U. N. commander.

An official spokesman said the two generals were "smoothing out" a number of prisoner details and tying up some loose ends.

The spokesman added: "When you are dealing with different countries and peoples there are always loose ends to be tied up."

Pyun threatened Tuesday to invade the Indian custodial troops in the Korean neutral zone.

Taylor issued a cold, brief statement at Seoul Wednesday night that 9th Army troops were pledged to protect Indian troops against an attack.

Pyun had threatened to attack the Indians because of a roster check or headcount of anti-Communist prisoners during which 135 POW's were and were granted repatriation to Red China.

President Syngman Rhee met with Cabinet officers Thursday to consider the Taylor statement and afterwards Pyun said in an interview:

"We are now making new arrangements as a test and if the arrangements pass the test we do not have to use force against the Indians."

The arrangements, he said, were between Rhee and Taylor.

Pyun denied earlier rumors in Seoul that he had resigned his post after the Taylor rebuke.

Taylor's troops have cleared barbed wire and steel barricades south of the demilitarized zone to handle anti-Red prisoners of war when they are freed.

The U. N. has insisted that the armistice calls for unqualified release of prisoners after midnight Jan. 22.

Korean POWs would be kept in South Korea, U. S. ships would take anti-Red Chinese to Formosa.

About 11:50 last night City Officers found a wrecked car at North Hervey and Avenue G, but the parties involved had left the scene of the wreck.

Officers listed Willie Ware, Negro, as driver of the vehicle and a Negro Woman, LaFreidre Wigat was taken to Julia Chester Hospital for treatment following the accident.

The investigation continues.

"It could be a matter of principle," said Wilbur. "And four million dollars is a pretty big principle."

Solution Is Announced in Reuther Case

DETROIT (AP) — Santo (Sam) Perrone, union-busting Detroit racketeer, was expected to surrender today to face charges in the 1948 shooting case of CIO President Walter P. Reuther which threatened to involve "prominent Detroit names" in management and union circles.

Perrone and his son-in-law, Carl Renda, who both built scrap metal fortunes, were charged yesterday with two others in the attempted assassination of the union chieftain.

Some police officials predicted that "prominent Detroit names" would figure in the case and might even replace the four "John Does" now listed on the warrant. Police, who broke the long investigated case wide open yesterday, have not given any hint to the identities of the four.

In 1951 Perrone and four associates were charged with conspiracy to smash union organizing at the Detroit Michigan, State Co. Perrone pleaded guilty in May, 1952, and was placed on probation.

DETROIT (AP) — Authorities, bringing criminal charges against four men, announced a "solution" early today to the attempted assassination of Walter Reuther, CIO United Auto Workers president, in 1948.

"This is the solution, but it may go farther," Wayne County (Detroit) Prosecutor Gerald K. O'Brien said.

Two of the accused men were in custody. One was caught and another is reported an inmate of a federal penitentiary.

O'Brien and City Police Commissioner Donald S. Leonard together made the announcement of the arrests and charges.

The motive for the shooting of Reuther and his brother has never been officially established.

Detroit police officials, shortly after the shooting of Reuther, said the assassination attempt probably was the work of a person who disagreed with Reuther's policies in the UAW.

Walter Reuther, after the shooting of his brother, said: "The same people who paid to have me shot paid to have my brother shot and for the same reasons."

"They are the people who are opposed to decent, clean American democratic trade unionism. This is a campaign of terrorism intended to stop pro-American and pro-democratic trade unions in our efforts to build a better America and a free world."

Bobo Couldn't Be Living in Poverty

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The hand to mouth existence Mrs. Barbara Paul (Bobo) Rockefeller says she's living is said to amount to about $4,000 a month plus a rent-free Park Avenue penthouse.

Winthrop Rockefeller's Little Rock attorney announced yesterday that the multi-millionaire had given his estranged wife $21,500 since last June 1 and that the couple's 5-year-old son, Winthrop Paul, has received $750 a month from a trust fund set up for him.

Edwin E. Dunaway, who has represented Rockefeller since he moved from New York to an elaborate Arkansas ranch last year, said Mrs. Rockefeller also has rent-free use of the couple's plush New York penthouse.

Saying he wanted to answer Mrs. Rockefeller's charge that she has been left virtually penniless, Dunaway showed reporters canceled checks totaling $11,500 which had been left virtually penniless, Dunaway said, by Bobo or her banker since last June 1. He added that she had been sent "two other $5,000 checks which he would produce later."

Military Turns More and More to A-Weapons

By ELTON C. FA

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower gave Congress today the new look at national defense — a "great and growing number of atomic weapons, expanding air fleets, diminishing manpower."

His State of the Union message specifically mentioned a no-billion dollar boost in spending for continental defense against enemy air attack.

Here are considerations which Eisenhower said went into a program given the unanimous recommendation of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and his own approval after the assessment by the diplomatic-military policy making "National Security Council."

"We take into full account our goal and growing number of nuclear weapons and the most effective means of using them against an aggressor if they are needed to preserve our freedom. Our defense will be strong if under appropriate security safeguards we share with or allies certain knowledge of the tactical use of our nuclear weapons. I urge Congress to provide the needed authority."

Eisenhower obviously was careful to recommend only that allies be given an idea of results to be obtained by atomic weapons and the manner of applying them — but nothing on the secrets of design and manufacture.

"Now relationships between men and materials... permit economies in the use of men... The air power of our Navy and Air Force is receiving heavy emphasis."

"Our armed forces must retain maximum mobility of action. Our strategic reserves must be placed and readily deployed to meet sudden aggression against ourselves and our allies."

Eisenhower had presented this idea in announcing Dec. 26 that Army divisions are to be withdrawn from the forces of the United States in Korea.

"Pay alone will not retain in the career service of our armed forces the necessary numbers of long term personnel. I strongly urge therefore a more generous use of the benefits important to service morale."

More Snow in Northeast Section

By The Associated Press

More snow fell today in the Northeastern section of the country and rain continued along the Pacific Coast.

But dry and comparatively mild winter weather prevailed in most other sections of the country.

The snow belt extended from the Upper Great Lakes southeastward through the Alleghenies into New York and New England. Falls measured 2 inches or more over most of the area. The snow and a two-day cold wave resulted in at least five deaths in Pennsylvania. Three persons died of heart attacks while shoveling snow while two others were killed when autos skidded on slippery highways.

The rain in the Far West extended from Northern California into Canada. Fair to partly cloudy skies were reported in other sections of the nation.

Temperatures were below freezing from New England southwestward into the Middle Mississippi Valley and northwestward over the Central and Northern Plains and the Northern Rockies. Readings were zero and below in sections of North Dakota and in the 40s and 50s in other areas.

Sleeping Sickness Victim Dies

HOT SPRINGS — Eight-year-old Carolyn Ann White, who spent the last three years of her life unconscious from sleeping sickness, died at a hospital here today.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence White of Glenwood.

The girl contracted the disease on Dec. 14, 1950. The family's insurance funds took care of her expenses for the first year, but Hot Springs civic clubs and other organizations have helped the family pay the medical bills for the past two years.

Carolyn once was flown to a specialist in Texas in an unsuccessful attempt to cure her.

Resides her parents the girl is survived by four sisters and two brothers.

Funeral services will be held at the Glenwood Presbyterian Church tomorrow.

Congress Told New Tax Cuts Likely, A-Weapons to Be Used If Necessary

State of Union Message by President Draws Bi-partisan Praise and Some Criticism

By RAYMOND LAHR

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower's State of the Union address drew both bi-partisan praise and criticism today.

Republican as well as Democratic criticism came on his proposal to cancel scheduled excise and corporate tax reductions and his statement that his country is relying less on ground forces to defend it against aggressor.

Mrs. Eisenhower's call for gradual adoption of flexible farm price supports also drew sharp comment from some Democrats and silence from many midwestern Republicans.

But there was bi-partisan praise for the general tenor of the speech.

Senate President Pro Tempore Styles Bridges (R-N. H.) called the President's speech an outline of "a courageous, sound and forward-looking program."

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson (Tex.) calling the tone of the message "one of moderation and reason" pledged that his party will give the recommended "program careful study."

House Speaker Joseph W. Martin, Jr. called the message "one of inspiration and stimulation." The Massachusetts Republican predicted that a "substantial part" of the proposals will be approved by Congress. Martin said he expects the President will have his "greatest difficulty" winning congressional endorsement of his proposals on the controversial question of taxes. But he said he thinks that and excise, tax rates saying factually.

House Democratic Leader Sam Rayburn (Tex.) said the President's message made "few, if any, specific recommendations on major subjects."

"We still will have to wait to see what President Eisenhower's program is," Rayburn said.

Mrs. Luce Sees Danger in Italy

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce has cautioned top officials here there is new danger in Italy of slowly rising Communist strength. It was learned today.

Mrs. Luce, who conferred yesterday with President Eisenhower, is reported to be urging continuing American economic and military aid to Italy to bolster its pro-Western government.

Neither Mrs. Luce nor the president, reliable sources said, believes there is any imminent threat that Italy's already powerful Communist party can seize power.

The ambassador is confident, it is said, that the current political crisis caused by Italian Premier Giuseppe Peella's resignation can be solved quickly without playing into Communist hands.

However, she is reported concerned about the long range threat posed to Italian democracy by the new, non-violent tactics adopted by Italy's Reds.

Diphtheria Almost Eliminated in State

LITTLE ROCK (UP) — Diphtheria, once a major killer, appeared today to be almost eliminated as a serious disease threat in Arkansas.

Dr. A. M. Washburn, director of the communicable diseases division of the state health department reported yesterday that there were only 32 cases of diphtheria reported in Arkansas in 1953, compared to 52 the previous year.

Not many years ago there were epidemics involving thousands of cases of diphtheria in Arkansas.

However, despite the good news about diphtheria, Washburn's annual report showed an upturn in other children's diseases in 1953, notably 13,232 measles cases for 1953, an increase of more than 10,000 over 1952.

French Send Laniel to Berlin Meet

PARIS (AP) — Premier Joseph Laniel and his Cabinet ministers have a new lease on their shaky offices today. They are due to leave for Berlin at least until after the Berlin Big Four conference of foreign ministers.

France's badly split National Assembly got together last night to give Laniel a 319-249 endorsement so Foreign Minister Georges Bidault could go to Berlin Jan. 25 as spokesman for a real government.

Laniel, who said he would resign if the vote went against him, or wasn't big enough for him, had been expected to get the Assembly approval. But the size of the endorsement—five more than a majority of the chamber's 627 seats—surprised most observers. The Assembly had sent the Premier to meet President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill at Bermuda with only a 275-244 endorsement.

Laniel reviewed his domestic policies at length and his foreign policies briefly before the Assembly yesterday, then called for the decisive vote on a procedural motion to postpone debate on his speech.

Most of the ballot against the Premier came from the Communists, who oppose his whole program, and the Socialists, who are against his conservative domestic policies.

Laniel normally would have resigned in accordance with French custom after President-elect Rene Coty takes office Jan. 17. With the Big Four Conference due to open only eight days later, he feared a prolonged government crisis then, which would have left France with only a caretaker foreign minister to send to Berlin.

In his policy review the Premier gave no indication of what position Bidault would take in Berlin on the No. 1 item of discussion, the future of Germany.

VFW Auxiliary
Has Meeting

The VFW Auxiliary met at the Hut on Tuesday night, January 5, at 7:30, with Mrs. Dorothy Burke presiding.

The opening prayer was offered by Mrs. Hardean Davis, Chaplain pro tem.

During the business session which followed, plans were made for the Polio Drive. Five dollars was given to the Salvation Army along with a donation for the VFW National Home.

A report from the State Hospital, Chairman, concerning the work at the Veterans Hospital during the Christmas holidays was given by the president.

Coffee and doughnuts was served to all those present by the hostesses, Mrs. Burke and Mrs. Hush.

Dear Miss Dix: I'll condense my story into as few words as possible, and hope you can make something out of it. I was married 20 years ago to a man who didn't work before or after our marriage. He drank, forged checks in his father's name, and I worked until our baby was born. Then he left us. I divorced him and continued working, brought up our daughter, who is now married. My ex-husband remarried, was divorced, remarried, and has been living in another city. Now he is seeking a divorce again, is working steadily, and wants to come back to me. I have seen him a few times, when he has made wonderful promises for the future. His family is anxious for us to be together again; mine is very much opposed to it. My daughter says the decision is up to me. I have a good job, a nice home and car. My former husband has visited me several times, he was pleasant and said he wanted to make amends for all the wrong he did us. Do you think I should continue to date him now (before his divorce), and take him back later?

Answer: Only the Delphian Oracle could predict the workings of a man's mind, but the intentions of your ex-mate are so palpably evident that I don't see how anyone could be fooled by him — unless, of course, the desire to be hoodwinked is present. Here you have a man who has shirked all responsibility during his lifetime, which I judge would be about 45 years. He's done as he liked has had his good times and, finally, has come to the end of his rope.

Perhaps he no longer appeals to women, perhaps people have just gotten wise to him and aren't handing out any more. At any rate, he learns that a cozy home is available with a wife he deserted, that the necessity of working no longer will plague him, and all this is his at the cost of a few flattering words, empty promises delivered smoothly. Wouldn't he be a fool to let it all go by without trying to get on the gravel trail? His success is, apparently, easier than even he dared dream. Such is the gullibility of some women. If only people would put such faith in God.

Your letter conveys every intention of taking your ex-husband back, and I hope it doesn't work out too badly for you. A comfortable home, absence of worry over financial matters, may keep him from straying again. If his company is recompense enough for supporting and worrying over him, I wish you luck.

Dear Miss Dix: I have a very close friend and over a period of time she has repeatedly told me disparaging things that other people have said about me. She says it's because she feels it her duty to tell me. I hate to believe these tales, but sometimes they are so convincing it's impossible to shrug them off.

Answer: One of the outstanding blots on the face of this good earth of ours is the friend who does distasteful things "for your own good." She and her ilk should be shunned like the plague, silenced, forcibly if necessary, whenever they utter those false words. People who give them encouragement, by listening and acting upon their scurrilous gossip, are almost as mad. The lady (?) most certainly is not a friend.

Dear Miss Dix: I'm 21, and for the past year have been dating a married man whose wife is an invalid. I know this isn't right, but I sincerely love him. His wife would consent to a divorce, but I hesitate to have him go through with one. My conscience says a divorce would be wrong; my heart tells me to urge him to get one.

Answer: Better a broken heart than a nagging conscience. Desertion of a sick wife certainly would be no foundation for a happy marriage. Remember, you will rate the same treatment from the man that he's given his wife. (Released by The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Fenwick, after the closing prayer.

Formosa Set to Receive Anti-Reds

ATPEH, Formosa, Ark. — About 50 anti-Communist Chinese war veterans are expected to arrive here from Korea in early March and the government plans a gala welcome to the men. It calls "patriotic soldiers."

The prisoners have refused to return to Red China and are expected to be released from new custody in Korea Jan. 22.

Gen. John E. Hull, the U. N. East command, is to arrive here Monday and he was expected to discuss final arrangements for the prisoners' transportation to Formosa.

Officials here said the U. N. Command was to assume responsibility for delivering the men safely to Formosan ports.

Officials here said the prisoners would be given the choice of serving in Nationalist China's army or being civilians. All are expected to undergo "political" briefing courses on their arrival.

Rails-Hike Charge for Carrying Mail

WASHINGTON, Ark. — The railroads and the Post Office department today agreed on a 10 per cent increase in charges for carrying mail.

Officials here estimated that the increase would increase the revenues of the railroads by about $10 million a year.

A formal proposal of the 10 per cent increase was laid before the Interstate Commerce Commission for approval jointly by representatives of the Post Office and the railroads.

The increase was offered as a substitute for a 45 per cent advance in mail rates.

The Postoffice Department had been fighting the proposed 45 per cent increase.

Reporter Burned Fighting Fire

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A wind-swept brush fire destroyed three cabins a house trailer and barn and several small sheds on the banks of Old River Lake near here yesterday.

Joe Wirges, veteran Arkansas Gazette reporter who discovered the fire suffered severe burns in an unsuccessful attempt to extinguish the fire.

Wirges, who was fishing on the lake, fought the flames alone at first, and then called the North Little Rock and Little Rock fire departments. A company of firemen from each city brought the fire under control, saving several houses.

Homes belonging to Dr. W. F. Shearer, P. A. Bates, and Lowell Biggs, all of Little Rock, were destroyed the house trailer was owned jointly by Jack Crowder and R. T. Hickerson of Little Rock.

Hospital May Seek Donations to Boost Pay

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — An attorney general's opinion that cash funds can't be used to increase the salary set for the Arkansas State Hospital superintendent brought a possibility today that private donations may be sought.

Harold Hedges Jr., of Little Rock, vice chairman of the Hospital's Board of Trustees, said the opinion "knocked the props from under me."

He said he believed an additional $2,000 will be needed if the board is to hire one of two leading psychiatrists it wants for the superintendent's post.

"We need one of these men so badly as the head of our hospital that I believe I could raise the $2,000 over the telephone from people who are interested in the welfare of the hospital," said Hedges.

"However, this is only my own personal idea. I have not discussed it with other members of the board or the governor. There may be some reason we shouldn't do it that way. I don't know."

The vice chairman and Dr. E. C. Smith of Hot Springs, chairman of the board, will interview the two men tomorrow. Hedges has declined to identify them on the ground that neither has applied for the job, vacant since Dr. C. C. Odom resigned last November.

French Vote Expected to Approve Meet

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP) — Premier Joseph Laniel faced the National Assembly today in an effort to put his crumbling majority together for a vote of support in advance of the Big Four foreign ministers meeting in Berlin.

He was expected to win grudging approval — not for love of Laniel but to assure France of having a foreign minister present when the talks open on Jan. 25. Ever some of Laniel's bitter enemies want France to speak up with some show of authority in Berlin.

The test comes on a statement of general policy by Laniel stressing domestic affairs, followed by a demand that debate be cut off.

Laniel planned to tell the special Assembly session that if he is defeated or gets a weak majority on his demand to postpone debate, he will resign. By this device he avoids a 24-hour postponement required when a formal confidence vote is posed.

Adjournments and explanations by the deputies of their views on postponing debate were expected to put off the vote until late tonight.

Texarkana Votes Favor Negro College

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — A property tax increase for establishment and operation of a Negro junior college was approved by a margin of nearly 2 to 1 in a special election here yesterday.

The new institution was proposed by the school board in the hope of forestalling enrollment of Negroes at Texarkana Junior College.

Expressing pleasure over outcome of the election, Supt. H. W. Stillwell said he believes "separate colleges are best for both Negroes and whites."

Complete but unofficial returns showed 1,198 for the tax boost.

666 against. Taxes will be hiked 20 cents per $100 assessed valuation. A lawsuit in which several Negroes seek admission to the white junior college is pending in Federal Court here.

George Would Go Along With Debt Increase

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (U. S. — Sen. George (D-Ga.) said today he had let the administration know he would go along with "a reasonable increase" in the national debt limit if necessary.

The veteran senator, who attended yesterday's White House conference at which Democratic and Republican leaders were briefed on some aspects of the Eisenhower program, emphasized, however, that any boost in the present 275-billion-dollar debt limit still was distasteful to him.

In a separate interview, Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.) said he, too, "felt inclined" to vote for a hike in the ceiling of up to 10 billion dollars with the hope it would not have to be used.

Flanders said he felt the administration had proved in recent months it was striving hard to cut government spending.

These developments improved chances that the Senate will pass some sort of debt ceiling boost, although some members, including Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) remain aloof against it.

The issue is before the Senate Finance Committee, which bottled up the administration's request for a 15-million-dollar increase at the close of the 1953 session after the House had passed it.

George, former chairman of the finance group and now its senior Democratic member, wields considerable influence among his colleagues. Both he and Flanders voted in the committee against the increase last August.

Chairman Millikin (R-Colo.) of the Finance Committee, who supported the bill, declined to say whether he had been asked to try to revive it early in the session. But high Treasury officials have left no doubt they still feel the increase is essential. The national debt now is within less than 500 million dollars of the ceiling.

Millikin also said in an interview he feels Congress should proceed very carefully before voting to lower the social security tax back to the level prevailing up to Jan. 1 as the administration has asked.

The tax before Jan. 1 was 1½ per cent of a worker's salary up to $3,000 a year, paid both by the employee and employer. It went up to 2 per cent.

Millikin said he personally favored the 1½ per cent rate. But he said he wanted to see "all the figures" on administration plans to broaden social security coverage before he decides whether the 2 per cent tax is needed.

George, on the other hand, said he favors freezing the tax at 1½ per cent for two more years. He said the present 19-billion-dollar trust fund is ample to assure social security payments for at least the next 10 years.

Flanders and Sen. Carlson (R-Kan) who also serves on the Finance Committee, said they favor the 1½ per cent rate, and Carlson said he is confident there were sufficient votes in the Senate to put the tax back down to the 1953 level.

However, such a move would have to originate in the House. There, some key Republicans including Chairman Daniel A. Reed (R-N.) of the Ways and Means Committee favor the 2 per cent ATE. Rep. James C. Davis (D-Ga.) announced he would offer a bill to restore the 1½ per cent rate, with refunds retroactive to Jan. 1.

AP&L to Service Arkadelphia Plant

LITTLE ROCK (U. S. — Arkansas Power & Light Co., today asked the state Public Service Commission for allocation of territory necessary for it to supply power to a new aluminum plant near Arkadelphia.

The territory, 750 acres which Reynolds Metals Co., built the site of its plant at Springdale, now is held by the Central Arkansas Electric Cooperative at Arkadelphia.

Bob Wimberly, advertising manager for AP&L, said the company agreed to allow his firm to use the area. He said today the plant was designed only to supply power to the Reynolds Metals Co. plant at Springdale, now is held by the Central Arkansas Electric Cooperative at Arkadelphia.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — The ball-carrying duel of the football season should develop before the eyes of a national audience Saturday when Bobby Cavazos of Texas Tech and Billy Wells of Michigan State close their brilliant collegiate careers in the 5th annual Senior Bowl game at Mobile.

Cavazos, who scored three touchdowns in Tech's 33-13 rout of Auburn on New Year's Day, will exhibit his talents for Coach Steve Owen's "South" team. Wells, whose guady runs sparked Michigan State's comeback victory over UCLA in the Rose Bowl, no doubt will start in Paul Brown's "North" backfield.

Both sides will be loaded with talent there being no fewer than 20 captains or co-captains on the two squads, but it is the Cavazos-Wells duel that will get my patronage.

Incidentally, we see where our well known critic says Texas Tech was not invited to play in the Cotton Bowl because "it is not ranked as an accredited school." That, if true, would explain a lot of things. But the question remains, agreed to what?

Dan Bucceroni, the ex-sailor and Olympic Champion from Philadelphia, scored an impressive victory over Hein Ten Hoff, the big German, in their Tuesday night heavyweight fight at Milwaukee but it is difficult to find a man on the Broadway boxing beat who rates him a real contender for Rocky Marciano's title.

Their typical reaction was about the same as that of Rocky's manager, Al Weill, who shrugged and said "It's a win." Despite his record of 46 victories against only three losses, Bucceroni is not thought to hit hard enough to stem the champion's relentless attack.

A friend reports that the Australian press is putting front page pressure on its tennis selectors to resign since their memorable decision to play Rex Hartwig instead of Ken Rosewall in the Davis Cup double placed the period trophy in seeming jeopardy for a day.

The campaign will fail, for an Australian selector lets go of that coveted office only when he is still in death. But it serves to give an idea of the grip the sport has on the nation. The fact that Rosewall back with his regular partners, Lewis Hoad, had just triumphed over doubles pair of Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas in a tournament at Adelaide, 6-3, 6-3, 6-1, does not promise to lessen the editorial heat.

It's been a long haul, but professional basketball finally has caught on solidly here and is for the first time consistently outdrawing the college game at Madison Square Garden. Crowds of over 12,000 on a heavy schedule in the National Basketball Association, pretend higher player salaries and growing prosperity for a sport which once was limping badly.

Many ascribe the increasing popularity of the money game to its policy of encouraging television. Its leaders figured that the more persons they could induce to watch the greatest stars in action on their home screens the more would gain a desire to see them in person. They appear to have figured correctly.

WASHINGTON (AP) — City investors are no longer rushing out to buy farms as a hedge against inflation, the Agriculture Department reported today.

Neither the agency added, are farmers or prospective farmers buying farm land at the great volume that helped create a land boom after outbreak of the war in Korea.

Declines in farm product prices and in farm income during the past year, coupled with inauguration of 1954 restrictions on some crops for 1954 have greatly reduced the demand for farms, the department said.

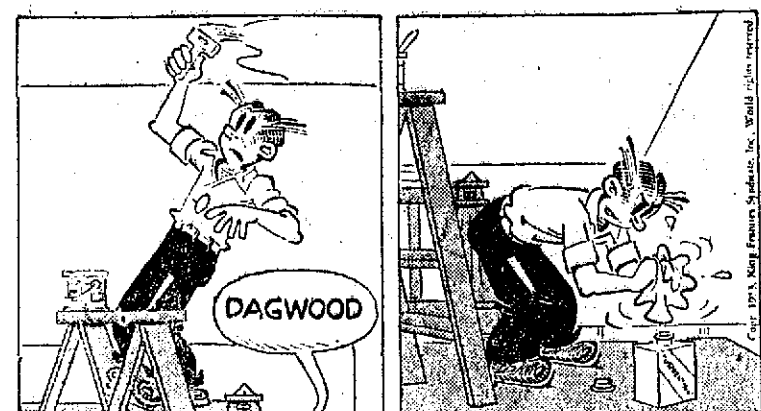

This decline has been reflected in a drop in farm real estate prices. Those prices were said to have declined an average of 3 per cent during the four months ended Nov. 1. They declined 6 per cent during the year ended Nov. 1.

Declines during the four-month period were sharpest in a drought area extending from Kentucky and Tennessee west to Utah.

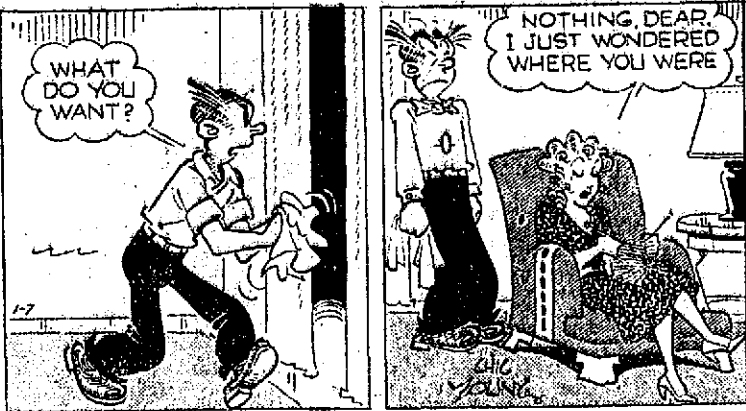

The department said city investors were losing interest in farms because of an increasing stability in general economic conditions.

Interest rates on new farm mortgage money have generally increased in all parts of the country, the department said. Most banks were said to be asking 5 per cent rates hand to acknowledge the reception. He wore a gaily figured necktie and a business suit.

The President bowed to Speaker Joe Martin (R-Mass.) and the others in the row behind the platform and said: "It is good to see you."

On the floor, along with the members of Congress were top officials of the government, the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and members of the Supreme Court.

The galleries—admission was by special card only—were packed long in advance.

Ten minutes before the President arrived, Mrs. Eisenhower took the seat reserved for her in the presidential gallery. She was wearing a fur jacket, white hat and gloves.

Senators filed in without ceremony, chatting and shaking hands with House members. Senator Hoey (D-N.C.), in a frock coat and wearing a red carnation, cut quite a figure.

Russian Ambassador Georgi M. Zarubin was among the diplomats seated in the gallery.

BY MARVIN N. L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower said today new tax cuts "can and will be made" and he told Congress America's defense plans are geared to use of atomic weapons "if they are needed to preserve our freedom."

The President, in his state of the union message, outlined a program he said would build the military might of the United States, bolster other free nations against communism and maintain a healthy economy at home.

Proclaiming encouraging developments in the struggle for global peace, Eisenhower said in a 7,000-word address prepared for a joint session of the House and Senate:

"Slowly but surely, the free world gathers strength. Meanwhile from behind the Iron Curtain there are signs that tyranny is in trouble and reminders that its structure is as brittle as its surface is hard."

In his address to an election year Congress almost evenly divided politically, the President also predicted a Federal spending budget of about $80,000,000,000 for the fiscal year starting July 1—about 12 billion dollars less than the original Truman administration budget for the current year.

Called for legislation to strip U. S. citizenship from Communists convicted of conspiring against the government in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. James Boatner observed their fifteenth anniversary on Friday, January 1. The table was covered with a white linen table cloth centered with red roses. The guest list include Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Buchanan, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Phillips, Clinnie Gamble and daughter James and Charles McFadden and Freddie L. Smith, George Boatner and Mary L. Jones.

employees now have been separated from Federal jobs under the Eisenhower administration's new security program. The previous total, announced last Oct. 23, was 1,140.

—Sketched plans to combat any business recession or depression, but again declared the nation's economy is basically sound, and said his administration is determined to "keep it growing."

—Recommended a Constitutional amendment to give American youths the right to vote at 18 years of age instead of 21.

—Declared foreign military aid must be continued, but that economic aid can be cut except in Korea "and a few other critical places."

—Confirmed that the special farm message he will send to Congress Monday will call for a new government price support program "with enough flexibility to affect the production of needed supplies of essential commodities and to stimulate the consumption of those commodities that are flooding American markets." His support of a "flexible price support program was certain to divide farmers as well as Congress members."

—Renewed his appeal for an increase in the federal debt ceiling, now 275 billion dollars. The House approved his request for a 15-billion-dollar hike last August but the Senate Finance Committee rejected it.

—Urged amendment of the Atomic Energy Act to permit sharing with "our allies certain knowledge of the tactical use of our nuclear weapons."

—Announced that during the next fiscal year the U. S. will spend nearly a billion dollars more for continental defense than during the current year.

—Called again for expansion of the social security program to cover 10 million more Americans, and for a substantial increase in benefits.

—Urged extension of unemployment compensation to 6½ million workers not now covered.

—Described the controversial Taft-Hartley Labor Law as "basically sound" but in need of improvements he will recommend in a special message Monday.

—Advocated a system of "limited government reinsurance service" to permit private and non-profit hospital and medical insurance companies now operating to offer "broader protection to more of the many families which want and should have it." He promised to elaborate in a special message Jan. 18.

—Appealed again for Congressional approval of the St. Lawrence Seaway as vital to national security.

—Urged Senate passage of the House-approved bill to grant statehood to Hawaii.

Eisenhower went before the legislators just 24 hours after opening of the second session of the 83rd Congress.

His message, carried to the nation by television and radio, came at the start of a political year which will be climaxed by the November Congressional elections.

Republicans now hold only a slim margin of control at the Capitol and the Democrats are hopeful they can slip into the saddle.

Meanwhile the administration must win some degree of support from the Democrats for any success in putting through the program Eisenhower said has one objective—"The building of a stronger America."

He told the legislators he believes "both of our great parties" can back it.

As for tax cuts in addition to the income tax reductions and expiration of the excess profits levy which were effective Jan. 1, the President said:

"Future reductions in taxes can and will be made."

But he conditioned reductions on the spending cuts he predicted. At another point he declared:

"Despite the substantial loss of revenue in the coming fiscal year, resulting from (Jan. 1) tax reductions now in effect and tax adjustments which I shall propose, our reduced spending will move the new budget closer to a balance."

The President said the tax revision program will be set forth in detail in his Jan. 21 budget message. Informed sources have predicted cuts totaling about 1½ billion dollars annually.

Calling today for a thorough revision of the entire tax structure, Eisenhower declared:

"We should now remove the more glaring tax inequalities particularly on small taxpayers; reduce restraints on the growth of small business; and make other changes that will encourage initiative, enterprise and production."

On the other side of the picture, however, the President said again that corporation income taxes should be kept at the current rate of 52 per cent for another year instead of being allowed to drop to 47, and that excise taxes on such items as liquor, tobacco, gasoline and automobiles—also scheduled for an April 1 cut—should be maintained at prevailing rates.

On the foreign policy and national defense fronts, where Eisenhower already has made an open bid for cooperation from the Democrats, he said America has gained the initiative during the last year in the struggle against communism—and means to keep it.

"American freedom," he declared, "is threatened so long as the world Communist conspiracy exists in its present scope, power and hostility."

Referring to his Dec. 8 United Nations speech calling on Russia to join with the U. S. and other atomic powers in creation of an international atomic pool for peaceful use, the President said:

"I fully recognize Soviet reaction will be possible, a new step toward the era of peace, and away from the era of cold war."
